

Fact Book

2005-2006

The New College of Florida Fact Book, 2005-2006 presents current information on enrollment, admission, financial aid, fiscal resources, and the academic program at the state honors college for the liberal arts and sciences. The Fact Book contains information and statistics on institutional enrollment, student characteristics, admissions policies, academic offerings, and annual expenses for in-state and out-of-state students, instructional faculty, and class size. This year, we also added fiscal resources and personnel sections to provide basic understanding about the college budget and employee information. The purpose of the book is to provide the college community with facts about New College, and can be used by those responsible for public presentations about New College, as well as those who require institutional data for reporting.

The backbone of the Fact Book follows the format and definitions established by the Common Data Set widely used by college guide publishers for gathering data on undergraduate education, particularly the year's fall entering class. By standardizing the definition of key terms, the Common Data Set helps assure that data will be comparable across institutions. Common Data Set definitions are included at the back of the Fact Book.

This book was prepared by the Office of Institutional Research with the data provided by all offices on campus. Sincere thanks to the many New College offices that contributed data to the Fact Book, 2005-2006, and to Clinton Donaldson, who provided tremendous effort in producing the volume. A special thanks also goes to the Office of Public Affairs for editing and publishing the print version. An electronic version of this fact book can be found online <http://www.ncf.edu/institutionalresearch/fact.html>.

Awarded aid: The dollar amounts offered to financial aid applicants.

Financial aid applicant: Any applicant who submits any one of the institutionally required financial aid applications/forms, such as the FAFSA.

Indebtedness: Aggregate dollar amount borrowed through any loan programs (federal, state, subsidized, unsubsidized, private, etc.; excluding parent loans) while the student was enrolled at an institution. Student loans co-signed by a parent are assumed to be the responsibility of the student and should be included.

Financial need: As determined by your institution using the federal methodology and/or your institution's own standards.

Need-based aid: College-funded or college-administered award from institutional, state, federal, or other sources for which a student must have financial need to qualify. This includes both institutional and noninstitutional student aid (grants, jobs, and loans).

Need-based scholarship or grant aid: Scholarships and grants from institutional, state, federal, or other sources for which a student must have financial need to qualify.

Need-based self-help aid: Loans and jobs from institutional, state, federal, or other sources for which a student must demonstrate financial need to qualify.

Non-need-based scholarship or grant aid: Scholarships and grants, gifts, or merit-based aid from institutional, state, federal, or other sources (including unrestricted funds or gifts and endowment income) awarded solely on the basis of academic achievement, merit, or any other non-need-based reason. When reporting questions H1 and H2, non-need-based aid that is used to meet need should be counted as need-based aid.

Note: Suggested order of precedence for counting non-need money as need-based:

- Non-need institutional grants,
- Non-need tuition waivers,
- Non-need athletic awards
- Non-need federal grants,
- Non-need state grants,
- Non-need outside grants
- Non-need student loans,
- Non-need parent loans,
- Non-need work

Scholarships/grants from external sources: Monies received from outside (private) sources that the student brings with them (e.g., Kiwanis, National Merit scholarships). The institution may process paperwork to receive the dollars, but it has no role in determining the recipient or the dollar amount awarded.
