Appeals by Denied Applicants

Denied applicants may appeal the decision with a written petition. It is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure that any supporting materials (e.g., updated transcripts) are received by the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid by the deadline given. The letter of appeal should be addressed to the Dean of Enrollment Services; it will be forwarded with application materials to the appropriate administrator.

Conduct: The Dean of Students will review the petition of any denied applicant whose misconduct was not cleared. If the Dean of Students approves the conduct, then the Dean of Enrollment Services will determine whether to offer admission, or whether the applicant must also submit an appeal on academic grounds to the Provost (or to the President, if the appeal on academic grounds involves a request for special consideration on the basis of disability).

Disability: The President will review the petition of any denied applicant appealing the Committee's decision regarding substitution or modification of an admission requirement on the basis of a disability; the President's decision on appeal shall constitute the College's final decision.

Other: The Provost will review the petitions of all other denied applicants. The request must indicate extenuating circumstances and/or appropriate alternative evidence of academic ability and achievement, motivation, and responsibility, indicating potential for success at New College. (A petition that is denied by the Provost may be further appealed for review by the Academic Administrative Council; this second petition must be received by the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid within 6 days of the decision.)
