Information For Residency Declaration

Please use the following information to help you determine your classification as either a non-Florida or Florida "resident for tuition purposes." You must declare your classification by completing the appropriate residency section (non-Florida or Florida).

A Florida "resident for tuition purposes" is a person who has, or a dependent person whose parent or legal guardian has, established and maintained legal residency in Florida for at least the last twelve months. Residence in Florida must be as a bonafide domicile rather than for the purpose of maintaining a residence incidental to enrollment at an institution of higher education. To qualify as a Florida resident for tuition purposes, you must be a U.S. Citizen, permanent resident alien, or legal alien granted indefinite stay by U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. Other persons not meeting the twelve-month legal residence requirement may be classified as Florida residents for tuition purposes only if they fall within one of the limited special categories authorized by the Florida Legislature and Department of Education. All other persons are ineligible for classification as a Florida "resident for tuition purposes." Living in or attending school in Florida will not, in itself, establish legal residence. Students who depend on out-of-state parents for support are presumed to be legal residents of the same state as their parents. Residence for tuition purposes requires the establishment of legal ties to the state of Florida. Students must verify that they have broken ties to other states if the student or, in the case of dependent students, his or her parent, has moved from another state.

I understand that use of an electronic signature certifies the accuracy of the information I provided in this application and in the residence statement, and that the electronic signature has the same effect as a written signature. Should any of the information I have given change prior to my entry to New College, I shall immediately notify the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid.
